MOVEMENT STARTED TO CRUSH AUSTRIA

to Launch Tremendous

MOSS AND LEATHER EATEN BY PRZEMYSL GARRISON

London, March 23.—Reuter's correspondent at Kiev, Russia, says that 4,000 prisoners, mostly from Przemyśl, have arrived there. "They gave a pitiable description of the starving condition of the garrison before the fall of the fortress," he continues. "Numbers of the men, they say, were dropping from exhaustion, while others had not sufficient strength to leave the trenches. They ate moss and gnawed at the straps of their equipment to keep themselves alive."

London, March 23.—The size of the garrison at Przemyśl and the number of men who surrendered to the Russians greatly exceed all estimates. According to Petrograd dispatches the garrison originally consisted of 170,000 men, of whom 40,000 were killed. Nearly 120,000 surrendered when the fortress capitulated.

the telegraphic service, prevents details of the surrender from coming through, but Lemberg reports that for seven days prior to the fall of the fortress the people of the town had nothing to eat and the Russians, who took in large supplies of provisions

Dispatches from Lemberg also say that 15,000 persons were found suffering from typhus or cholera and that the work of disinfecting the place is being undertaken energetically. The interior forts, it is said, were found intact, with a good deal of ammunition in them.

DRIVE AT CRACOW COMING AT ONCE.

Everywhere in Europe, both in belligerent and neutral countries, the greatest credit is given the Austrian for their long and stubborn resistance which has delayed and interfered with the Russian campaign in other directions.

With their northern lines protected by the morass into which the greater part of Poland is converted during the spring months, the Russians are expected to throw all their strength against the Austrians and attempt finally to crush them.

One British military critic stakes his reputation on the prophecy that Crævo will fall within a month and that when it does, or before, Austria will endeavor to conclude a separate peace. He is more optimistic than most military critics here, who believe the Austrians and Germans will make

Some of them buy goods that way. Instead of patronizing home industries—buying goods made here at home by home people—goods the equal of any, and at prices no higher—they send their money away off yonder under the erroneous idea that "imported" goods are better than goods of our own manufacture.

New York, March 23.—Back again to Brazil goes Nathan Cohen, champion sea traveler, who has lived about 750 days in the last 100, with adventures and both here and in Brazil because of his mental condition. He will sail on the fourth round trip March 27, and, unless all signs fail, he will be back in New York harbor again in six weeks. Then his friends should be made a present of a new suit.
